The bundling of Vuuzle Media Corp OTT with our linear alternatives including Clout nine, broadcast Live TV, live Streaming, satellite TV, online gaming, and premium channels possess the highest market share. Our internal report reveals that Vuuzle's bundling of these services will continue to dominate because no other provider has successfully delivered the optimal customer experience like we will do.

One of our biggest advantages we have with our OTT services is, we give subscribers an option to receive free services that include advertising.

We will be better than most OTT services as we also will be constantly building an unlimited amount of traditional TV broadcasts channels that give Vuuzle the ability to be more personal and present viewers with personalized, relevant content adjusted towards their specific preferences.

A large part of that personalized experience we will give will be due to Vuuzle semiotic artificial intelligence (AI). Vuuzle Systems are constantly improving and learning and are already able to give accurate predictions based on viewer's favorite sports types, teams, players, etc. Vuuzle AI has an effect on what is presented to viewers, including the most relevant events best fitted to the viewers.

Twisting the Vuuzle layout a bit is being done to optimize content promotions, Advertising, Programmatic, and our Demand-side Platform. Incorporating all these digital technologies have been tricky to do. However, by digitally incorporating our content into the Verizon Platform with specific functionality, we can make even more money becoming a leader in ad tech and entertainment.

Vuuzle AI will also eventually offer voice controls and interaction of many different kinds. Viewers will be able to replay or check the score on a special sporting match, by merely using their voice. 2019 is definitely going to be the year that sports over IP hits a home run.

With our live streaming application, we realized a serious problem that is happening with all streaming apps like Live me, Bigo Live. We realized that there was not enough control to keep children safe from people using obscenities to sexually explicit acts and material being solicited online.

Moreover, we noticed men in chat rooms communicating with young girls under the age of 17. Knowing this, we wanted to set the system up to vet anyone downloading and streaming on the Vuuzle live application to be based on age. We needed to make sure children would be kept safe from pedophiles and or bad people who were hunting and using live streaming applications as a weapon.

So what we did is we took the application down so we could improve the application and make it safe for any family member to use including moms dads and party people.

What we are doing with our tech team is that we are setting up our live streaming system to protect online users with a watchdog system that will be grouped by age and permissions. These groups will make it safe for younger aged children who want to play online.

(Group 1.) Children 11 to 17 must have a downloaded driver's license of the streamers parent, whereas the mother or father gives permission and approval for the streamer to use the Vuuzle Live Application.

(Group 2. ) 18 years old and up must download a valid ID and declare if they have ever been convicted of any crime involving sexual deviance or fraud. The user must opt-in with their ID and sign a document knowing that we have the right to send any rude or obnoxious acts directly to the proper authorities. Moreover, when we know that someone has a background, we can keep them on the Vuuzle watchdog list.

(Group 3.) Special functionality. Only for Law Enforcement and any authorities who would need and will use certain credentials to tap into Vuuzle streams so to arrest or trap any person who is mistreating children or illegally misusing the application and or breaking the law of the land in any way.

Please see this article of what has just happened to Live me. The streaming application had to delete 600k accounts after Fox 11 revealed pedophiles were using the app to sexually exploit children.

Vuuzle, unlike most streaming companies, will not rely on people telling the truth. We will take every effort to protect children from any harm that could come to them by way of the Internet. Moreover, mothers and fathers will be liable for any misconduct by their children, and anyone doing illegal things will be caught and put in jail.

Additionally and most importantly, giving law enforcement and officials special analytics that all the streaming communities know about will drive bad people away from the application knowing they are being watched while online 24 hours a day.

The combination of mobile Internet and smartphones has already contributed significantly towards democratizing education all over the world. With any and every bit of information just a finger-tap away, learning is now not confined to classrooms alone. Vuuzle.TV OTT services will help boost this revolution by further expanding the dimensions of a classroom. From being a mere physical part of a building, a classroom will soon become a metaphor for millions of people live-streaming lectures, across the globe and across time.

This shift from classroom-based education delivery to an online self-learning, the environment will be accompanied and bolstered by video lectures, live webinars, and interactive quizzes. Vuuzle's OTT-based digital learning will also enable learners to pursue multidisciplinary education by taking up relevant online live or recorded courses, as per their requirements.

In the past couple of years, there has been a collective shift in media consumption sensibilities, with people preferring over-the-top media services over the traditional media. Apart from providing a massive content diversity, the power of choice, and seamless accessibility, OTT makes for a more immersive and engaging medium of entertainment delivery and consumption.

The aforementioned trends will further enhance OTT's appeal in the eyes of every generation and viewers will continue to drive the domain's exponential market growth – all the while ushering in an unparalleled revolution in the larger entertainment ecosystem and beyond.
